Additional Information

EL Assignment

All three ELs receive this same guide. Stay flexible and follow the OCs' live assignments; the team may be redistributed between check-in, participant support, accessibility support and crowd flow as needs change.

Participant Experience

The event is alcohol-free. Passed hors d'oeuvres are available during the first hour, and water is available throughout the event.

Each participant receives two non-alcoholic drink tickets at check-in for use at the venue's drink bars.

A low-energy/rest area and perimeter seating are available for participants who need a quieter space or cannot stand for extended periods.

Accessibility & Support

Keep routes between the entrance, dance floor, seating, exits and accessible washrooms clear at all times.

If someone requests assistance, listen to what they need and contact an OC if you cannot address it immediately.

Escalation & Emergency Procedures

Questions or participant concerns: contact an OC. Venue, AV or equipment concerns: notify an OC or Fairmont staff; do not adjust venue-owned equipment yourself.

For a medical, safety or emergency concern, contact an OC immediately and follow Fairmont staff instructions. Keep exits and response routes clear.

Weather Plan

The event is indoors, so programming does not change for inclement weather. Allow extra travel time if conditions affect transit and monitor the Orientation discord server for updates before departure.
