NewC Tour - Tour Route

(40 minutes)

Start: Outside In front of doors to the library:

"Welcome to the New College Tour, today we're going to go to places in new college where you'll probably and hopefully use throughout your first and following years here."

---> Enter the building and stop just outside the main library doors.

D.G Ivey Library

This is the New College library, also called the D.G Ivey. It's one of the quieter places on campus if you're looking for an easy, convenient place to study. The library offers many great resources, which includes librarians that can assist you in finding any assignment resources, a computer workstation, group study rooms, and $0.03 cent black and white printing and $0.20 cent printing for New College students.

--> Go down the stairs found in the space outside the library's main doors.

Wilson hall Classrooms

These are the Wilson Hall Classrooms where both non-new college and new college affiliated classes take place. There's a good chance that during your time here, you'll have at least one class here. It's helpful to know where the classrooms are and their numbers, so you won't get lost trying to find them next time.

--> From the Wilson Hall Classroom hallway, turn left at the end of the hallway where the bathrooms are located, pass by the Wetmore Hall Lockers (honourable mention), and stop at the writing center.

Writing Centre

This is the Writing Centre, and it's probably one of the most underused resources in the first few years.

True or False: The Writing Centre can help you at any stage of writing, from brainstorming to polishing your final drafts before the deadline?

Answer: True, the writing Centre is a resource that you can use to help brainstorm ideas, work through your initial drafts, polish your work before submission, and even help you work through your assignment and the best way to get started.

If you're writing essays, lab reports, or even scholarship applications, you can book appointments with writing instructors who will give you feedback before you submit your work. It's free, so definitely make the most out of this resource.

--> Head past the Women's washroom, through the first set of doors and go up the flight of stairs found on the right. Once up the flight of stairs go through the next set of doors that leads to the Registrar's office.

Registrar's Office

This is the Registrar's office. If you have questions about course selection, academic petitions, graduation requirements, financial assistance and counselling, or any other related questions, this is where you'll come. With a great team from academic advisor's, learning strategists, and Student Services Assistants.

Question: Where would you go if you need help understanding degree requirements?

Answer: You can book an appointment, with academic advisors.

--> Go down the hall and lead students to Wetmore Lounge

Wetmore Lounge

This is one of the main student spaces in the new college. You'll find students studying here, relaxing between classes, residence events, and the entrance to the dining hall. A lot of orientation activities and community events happen here.

--> Take the flight of stairs between the elevator and dining hall entrance down to the Wetmore Hall Classrooms space, ensure the students stay in the area by the IFP office and vending machines.

Wetmore hall Classrooms

These classrooms host tutorials, seminars, and smaller classes. Similar to the classrooms you have all seen before, you might have one of your classes here.

--> Go to the tunnel past the washrooms located to the right when facing the vending machines.

Tunnel

New College has connecting underground tunnels that are extremely useful during the winter when its freezing outside, so you can go from your residence to your classrooms or the library without needing to step outside of the building.

--> Go through the tunnel and make a left at the split at the end of the path and continue until you reach the student center.

Student center

Welcome to the student Centre, which houses many of the New College affiliated clubs, some which you may be interested in joining. Currently there is an open house happening, which we highly encourage you to check out once we are done with this tour

--> Go up the flight of stairs continue until you reach the second floor of Wilson, exit through the doors, go up the stairs, and lead students to the area in front of ORSL in Wilson Lounge.

Wilson Lounge/ORSL

The space we just walked through is Wilson lounge. Similar to the Wetmore lounge, this area will mostly be a study space, or even an area to wind down with your friends and also has an entrance to the dining hall. We also have the Office of Residence and Student Life, also known as ORSL

Question: What role do you think ORSL (Office of Residence and Student Life) plays at New College?

Answer: ORSL works to support new college students from all things student life and leadership, residence life, living in residence and student amenities.

--> Take student down flight of stairs leading to front desk.

Front desk/Classrooms

This is the front desk, that is a place that is open 24 hours a day and can help you access many different new college amenities, if you are residence here, this will be the place to go if you lose your room key, get locked out of your room, or if you are having any issues.

--> In this space introduce the classroom found down the hall as well as the front desk. The lead student out of the door and to the ground level entrance for 45 Willcocks. Walk student down the hall, past the elevators, and stop outside the NCSC office.

Atrium/NCSC Office

Welcome to 45 Willcocks, another New College residence building. Here we are standing in the Atrium, which is a great place to study or hang out with friends. It is also next to the New Collee Student Counsil office, that hot many events that create a welcoming campus environment. It is also a great place to get involved as there are many student leadership positions that you can get into if you join the council.

--> Take student back down the hall and down the stairs to the basement of Willcocks.

William Doo

Just at the bottom of the stairs, you will find William Doo Auditorium, where you will find many events being held. Please remember this space, as many of this year's orientation events will be hosted here!

--> Walk to the area in front of the body works studio.

Gnu Lounge

This is this gnu lounge, which is like the two other lounges, is a great place to study, spend time with friends, and take a break between classes.

--> Take student back up the stairs and lead them back to the area outside the Quad.

End: Return to area outside the quad.

We are now at the entrance of the quad, which is a nice area found within New College and where the tour ends. Thank you for joining us on this tour of New College and I hope that you have a great time!
